YOUNG PEOPLE HAVE HUGE MASS MEETING

Large Gathering of the Young Men and Women of This City Yesterday

At the mass meeting for young people held at 6:30 o'clock, Sunday evening, and led by Rev. Otis Ironmonger, singing evangelist, every seat in the big house of worship was filled. It was an astonishing gathering of the young men and women of the city.

In opening the service Mr. Ironmonger said he was not going to do much talking himself because he wanted the young people to talk.

First of all was a rousing song service which nearly wafted the roof heavenward. It included such popular melodies as "When Jesus Came Into My Heart," "Brighten Up the Corners," and others of like character that young folk enjoy singing.

The leader then called upon the young people to tell what they expected God to do in these meetings. not what they expected of the helpers or the evangelists, but "what do you expect to do and to get out of it and what you expect others to get because of what you do." He asked for testimony along that line and many young men and women responded. On this testimony the leader commented and then made a brief talk, taking as his theme the rich young man who came to Christ asking what he should do because he had kept all the commandments from his youth up. Christ told him to sell all he had and give to the poor and the young man went away sorrowful for he had great possessions. The point emphasized was that we must make of our religion our supreme passion and subordinate to it every other interest. He bemoaned the fact that so many young people conceal their love for God and lack moral courage. To achieve things for Him we must love and serve Him with tremendous passion, and if we love Him we will hate evil. There is room for but one master passion, the speaker declared. It is the pet sins of life that bar us from success in a religious life, he said. We must rid our hearts of those sins before we can be of real service.

Rev. W. E. Edmonds closed the meeting with a word of prayer.

DRASTIC CUTS ARE MADE IN FINANCES

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 25.—A standing army of 14,000 officers and 168,000 men is provided for in the army appropriations bill reported to the house today by a subcommittee on appropriations.

Drastic cuts were made in the financial provisions of the bill. As recommended it calls for $331,072,159.80 for the support of the army during the current year. This sum is $15,631,747 less than the same bill last session, which failed of passage, and is $368,203,343.13 less than the war department asked.

The bill increases in some respect the amount of sustenance and pay for enlisted men. Reductions were effected in the ordnance, engineeer, quartermaster and other staff corps.

JUNIOR MUSIC CLUB MAKES GOOD START

A very good beginning was made by the Junior Music Club at its meeting Saturday night in the music room of Glendale high. There was a good attendance and an excellent program, the only adults present being the members of the committee who were acting as directors or patronesses of the club, viz.: Mrs. Spencer Robinson, Miss Gertrude Champlain and Mrs. Dora Gibson.

The first number was a piano solo, "The Butterfly" (Dennee), played by Claudia Wright. Then there was a song by Mildred Stanford. Miss Reba Philips gave two piano numbers, "The Butterfly" (Greig) and "Gollywogs' Cakewalk" (Debussy). Kenneth Jackson contributed a vocal number and Elizabeth Mottern a group of songs.

Following the program was a guessing contest of 20 items of which 17 were guessed, a much better showing than has been made by some of the Los Angeles organizations and the committee felt quite set up over the superior smartness of the club members. After this light refreshments were served.

ELKS EASILY WIN BASEBALL GAME

The Sunday ball game between Glendale Elks and New Method teams, resulted in an overwhelming victory for the Elks. The visitors were unable to score until the sixth inning. From that time on they managed to roll up five runs, but were unable to overcome the lead established by the Elks earlier in the game.

The Elks staged a batting rally in the third inning which resulted in seven runs. This rally discouraged and disheartened the visitors to such an extent that their playing was low spirited and listless. There were no spectacular plays nor interesting features; but Manager Salmacia promised he would bring out a stronger aggregation next Sunday who will make the Elks extend themselves to keep in front.

The battery for the Elks' team was Bolin and Leo Gabaig. The New Method battery consisted of Guyer and Stogsdell. Here is the score

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
New	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	1	2	5

GERMANY'S LATEST INDEMNITY OFFER

Falls Short 25,000,000 Gold Marks of the Original Amount Demanded

(By International News Service)

PARIS, April 25.—Germany's latest indemnity offer, which is being made to the allies in a note sent to Washington, falls short 26,000,000,000 gold marks of the original amount demanded by the allies, according to information secured here today from authoritative sources. Germany is said to have offered a sum which, with interest, will agrgegate 200,000,000,000 gold marks by the end of 42 years, the time limit set by the entente.

Germany is offering the allies the full 226,000,000,000 gold marks indemnity demanded by the entente, but with conditions that vitally involve the United States, said a Berlin dispatch to the Journal today.

"Germany will offer the allies total indemnity of 50,000,000,000 gold marks, which, stretched over a period of 42 years with interest, will ultimately yield 226,000,000,000 gold marks, thus conforming with the allies' Paris agreement," said the dispatch. "Germany proposes to raise the amount by an international loan. Also Germany proposes to take over the allied debts to the United States. Further, Germany offers annual payments based upon the progressive recovery of German industry."

IN REFERENCE TO OSTEOPATHIC BILL

Proper Interpretation of the Measure Now Before the State Legislature

To the readers of this paper, and friends of Osteopathy in this vicinity we wish to inform you that an article appeared in a local daily that was rather misleading regarding Assembly Bill No. 1055, pertaining to osteopathic legislation in this state.

First, pertaining to a separate board that would create another commission. This is incorrect. To prove this point reference is made to section 4 of Assembly Bill No. 1055, which provides that his act shall be administered by the legally constructed authority for the administration of medical laws; the original bill created a separate board. This amendment was made in order to place this act in line with any reorganization or consolidation plan, which may be effected by this legislature. If no reorganization is effected, this act will have to be administered by the state board of medical examiners.

Second, pertaining to the standard of education of Osteopaths. This new bill does not lower but raises the standard of education, and there will be better and more thoroughly equipped osteopathic physicians and surgeons in the field. To prove this point reference is made to section 5 of Assembly Bll No. 1055, which sets forth the education necessary before an applicant can be examined for the osteopathic physicians certificate, and stipulates that an applicant for an osteopathic physicians and surgeons certificate must have had all the college work outlined, viz.: Four years high school work, and four years college work in a legally chartered osteopathic college course embracing 4237 hours. Plus two years of practice as a physician, one year additional college work in major surgery, and one year's service as an interne in a hospital doing major surgical work. As a summary of the requirements you see it is necessary for an applicant to have spent eight years before he will be permitted to take an examination for an osteopathic physicians and surgeons certificate to practice his profession.

The idea of this bill is not to allow osteopaths to attempt to do surgery until they are properly qualified.

We consider this the correct interpretation of Assembly Bill No. 1055.

Your respectfully,

The osteopathic physicians and surgeons of Glendale and vicinity. Dr. L. Ashcroft, Dr. I. Durfee, Dr. J. Marple, Dr. G. F. Burton, Dr. O. A. Dietrich, Dr. Carl Phinney, Dr. A. Josslyn, Dr. A. Obear Fox, Dr. C. Payne Jackman, Dr. T. C. Young, Dr. Jane Wilson, Dr. W. T. Hurt.

35,000 PINTS A DAY!

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 25.—Chicagoans will have to get along on 1,600,000 gallons of booze per year, according to rules drafted by Ralph W. Stone, new dry chief for the central department.

Druggists have been notified that they will be permitted to draw only 100 gallons of whisky and wine each per quarter. There are 2000 drug stores in Chicago.

From this standpoint of the individual this means that 35,000 pints of whisky and wine a day is to be divided between Chicago's 3,000,000 people.

PREACHER DENOUNCES FOOLISHNESS OF MINOR DIFFERENCES IN RELIGION

Calls Upon Men With Dirty Money in Their Pockets to Make Restitution and Come Clean Before the Judgment Seat of the Almighty

WORLD NEEDS ANOTHER JOHN THE BAPTIST

How Way Is Being Prepared for Christ's Coming—Dwells on Havoc That Can Be Worked by Wagging Tongues—Warns Against Hatreds

Should the attendance on the tabernacle continue to increase as it did the latter part of the week and Sunday, an annex or a gallery will be needed to accommodate the audience. After every bench was snugly filled Sunday evening worshippers continued to arrive. Just how the ushers disposed of them was hard to discover.

The usual song service preceded the address of the evening by Evangelist John Brown, Rev. O. P. Rider of the Tropico Presbyterian church offered the invocation, and Rev. Otis Ironmonger sang "Jesus is Speaking Today."

The preacher has made it clear that this campaign is a revival, and, as seems quite proper, his initial work is concentrated on professing Christians. After they have been revived and aroused from what he considers spiritual sloth, the conversion of sinners outside the church, follows, he says, as a natural sequence.

He quite evidently believes it is the little foxes that spoil the vines and so he is emphasizing what are ordinarily considered the petty sins, that undermine character and make the Christian a reproach and stumbling block in a community.

His text Sunday night was taken from the third chapter of the Gospel according to St. Matthew, part of the second verse and part of the third verse: "Repent ye, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand * * * Prepare ye the way of the Lord. Make His paths straight."

He reviewed the preaching of John the Baptist in the wilderness, how he became a voice crying, "Repent! repent! repent!" How, when Jesus Christ was baptized by that strange and wonderful preacher and entered upon a ministry that was to last for three and a half years, Jesus cried out the cry of repentance. St. Peter preaching to the multitudes on the day of Pentecost, said, "Repent," and St. Paul uttered the same command. Said the preacher:

"I think we are all agreed that to enter the kingdom of God, men and women must go through the door of repentance, but 'repentance,' like backsliding, is a very unpopular subject. The average fellow does not care to have you uncover and denounce his sins. Probably today we need a St. Paul with his unanswerable logic to defend the faith, and yet, somehow, I have felt that in this day, especially throughout America, we need a John the Baptist, who would walk down through our streets, our shops, our offices, our churches and schools and our homes, with the cry: "Repent! repent!" until the whole nation would go down on its face in genuine repentance before God."

He referred to the two theories abroad in the church, one known as the post millennial school, which believes that Jesus Christ is coming at the end of the millennium and that the gospel is to win its way throughout all the nations of the world and all men and women are to be won to Christ. The other theory, the premillennial school believes that the gospel is to be carried as a witness to all nations, that the world at large is to grow, worse and worse until Jesus Christ comes to usher in his millennial reign. Said he:

"I hope I will not be misunderstood when I say that I do not believe that men and women who believe in the diety of Christ and salvation through the blood atonement, ought to draw swords to fight each other on the question of when Jesus Christ will come again. When millions do not know Christ came at all, it is foolish to be fighting over when he will come again."

Other divisions in the church over the proper form of baptism, and the school which believes in a second or even a third definite work of grace, were also referred to, but the preacher declared that repentance and regeneration to him were the acid tests and these minor matters are relatively unimoprtant. As to the true Sabbath, he said:

"Naturally I keep Sunday and believe in Sunday, but on the other hand I believe I could keep Tuesday or Wednesday or Thursday just as well. I believe more and more we will stand by the one thing and less and less be divided by these other things. If you believe these other things, go on and preach them, but do not condemn those who do not see them just as you do. Sometimes we are so loyal to a certain truth that we are disloyal to Jesus Christ."

In the latter part of his discourse, the preacher dwelt on how the way is to be prepared for Christ's coming. If Glendale is to have a great revival it must come through the churches and just to the extent that the church life is gripped and shaken by the power of God will the community be grapped and shaken by the power of God. Said he:

"I want you men and women to realize that you are going to have something to do with giving Christ access to this city. To prepare the way of the Lord by making His paths straight we have to go back to our individual lives, and there must be some straightening out of those lives. Christ will not come over crooked paths. There has been a tendency all up and down this land to make it easy for people to come into the church, to let the bars down. No repentance, no regeneration, no transformation. The more you have of that sort of material in the church, the deeper you sink in the mire. Until the church has a revival we cannot expect to grip the heart of the world."

He then referred to sins that are stumbling blocks in the paths of sinners, declaring that the tongues of men and women need baptism, dwelling on the awful havoc that can be worked by wagging tongues that cause division in the church and division in the home. In scathing words he denounced the scandalmonger. Said he: "Some of these hell-hounds can see more through a keyhole a mile off than you could see with a telescope from a mountain top. Their tongues are so long they could stand in the front yard and reach around the house and lick the skillet in the kitchen." He also spoke of the men with "slop-bucket mouths," who enjoy stories that reflect on women and that are suggestive. Said he: "I do not care what school he comes from or what his profession or reputation, I am afraid of the man who delights in filth."

The cherishing of hatreds was also a subject of warning. Said he: "If you pray the Lord's prayer with hatred in your heart, the Lord's prayer will put you in hell just as surely as you live on earth. I believe that 999 out of 1000 of the differences in our churches and in our homes could be settled if we would just practice what Jesus Christ preaches."

The temptation of money was mentioned, the preacher saying: "If you have dirty money in your pocket it must go back. You must make an effort to put it back or it will turn you away at last from the beautiful gates. I am talking of restitution. Come clean before the world financially."

NEW FRIENDS ARE MADE FOR FAIRBANKS

New admirers are being won daily by Douglas Fairbanks at the Palace Grand theater where his latest film production "The Nut" began a three-day run yesterday.

This picture has brought to the screen a new element in film entertainment because of its original treatment. It is the story of a young fellow so desperately in love that his very earnestness hampers his courtship. The comedy complications that develop because of the rapid-fire style of his love-making keep the audience in an uproar of laughter.

Never in the redoubtable "Doug's" career has he given to the public a more satisfying piece. It is crammed full of a brand of entertainment conspicuous for its novelty, and its popularity is testified to by the large attendances at yesterday's shows.

Deputy Adolf Hoffman (Communist)—"The president of the Reich is an absolutely superfious piece of furniture. The parties of the Right (anti-radical) are satisfied with him because he does as they bid him to do. But he isn't even fit as an object for the funny papers."

Deputy Willam Mueller (former chancellor)—"What are you talking about? You can't even make a speech, you clown!"

Hoffman—"The best joke of history is that Herr Mueller was for a few days German chancellor."

FINANCIAL CRISIS IMPENDS IN TURKEY

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 25. — The Terrible Turk has gone down another notch toward the end of his rope.

Turkey's finances are shattered, and the government can no longer pay the salaries of its civil and military functionaires.

Whatever may be left of the Turkish army may go on a strike. American consular reports showed that conditions in Turkey are more chaotic than ever.

The Turkish deficit on account of unpaid salaries for government officers, both civil and military, extends over the past five months. A crisis of serious proportions impends, according to American commissioners at Constantinople.

Allied high commissioners at Constantinople, it is said, now are considering allowing the Turkish government to raise the "specific" duties, to render them equivalent to an 11 per cent ad valorem duty.

Financial relief to some extent may be realized from collection of the property tax from inhabitants of Constantinople, and the revenues from customs, may lighten the burden, it was declared.

But allied representatives, the department of commerce was advised, view the situation as most serious, for discontent and disorder among the people are growing daily.

IT SIMPLY ISN'T BEING DONE

(By International News Service)

BOSTON, Mass., April 25.—Professor Albert Einstein, whose theory of relativity has upset the scientific world, will not get the freedom of the city if he comes to Boston on a visit.

No one in the city council objects, as was the case in New York city, where one member of the board of estimate said he didn't know him. But the mayor's office announced that as no one had been given the freedom of the city during the Peters administration, that record is likely to hold good year.

until the mayor passes out early next

The city will be glad to banquet and entertain him, as it did General Pershing, King Albert of Belgium and General Nivelle of France. But as for giving him the freedom of the city, it simply isn't being done.

LONELY ITALIAN BURGLAR

(By International News Service)

GENEVA, April 25.—The governor of the prison at Bellinzona was obliged to ask the aid of the police to expel an Italian burglar named Moraro, who had been sentenced to two years' imprisonment followed by expulsion.

The prisoner refused to leave his cell after the expiration of his term, stating that he was perfectly comfortable where he was, and did not want to change his quarters and seek work.

Gendarmes transported the burglar across the frontier, but he laughingly told them that he would return shortly, since he liked the prison at Bellinzona. He is not the only man who has been impressed by the leniency with which prisoners are treated in Switzerland.

HOOTCH SPONGERS

(By International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, April 25.—The prohibition enforcement bureau here has a "sponge brigade."

It's the idea of Assistant Attorney General Roy Hubbard of Kansas.

The "spongers," all armed with sea going wash rags, raided an alleged "blind tiger." As they entered the house Mrs. Ana Markewich crashed a stone jug on the kitchen floor. As the "hooch" drained away into floor cracks, the "sponge brigade" went into action. Kneeling on the kitchen floor they "salvaged" a quart of the "home brew hooch."

Now Mrs. Markewich and five men, found in the house, face federal charges.

DIE TO ESCAPE ISOLATION WARD

(By International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—A coronial investigation was under way today into the death of two women as a result of an attempt to escape from the isolation ward of the city and county hospital.

Elsee Jean Davis fell two stories and Miss Eunice Radino fell four when a rope made by twisting bed sheets together parted under the combined weight of the two young women. The latter was killed instantly, Miss Davis dying several hours later. Opal Marshall, who ventured first down the improvised rope, reached the ground safely, but was captured before she could leave the hospital grounds. All three were clad only in night gowns.

Authorities believe a general break of all the women in the ward was planned. All were under arrest on vagrancy and allied charges.

LAST SUPPER ABOLISHED

(By International News Service)

BERLIN, April 25.—The "gallows meal" has been abolished in Saxony, according to a Dresden telegram received here recently. It is stated that owing to a shortage of food supplies the Saxon minister of justice is unable to continue the custom, which has been in force for more than 100 years, of providing criminals with a luxurious dinner on the night before their execution.

CONSTIPATION
BANISHED
By Milton H. Berry's Anatomical Method
THE RIGHT WAY TO MANIPULATE THE BOWELS DISCOVERED—IT BRINGS THE SLUGGISH COLONS NEAR THE SURFACE
—and Corrects Constipation, Effecting a Permanent Cure

Every detail of this marvelous method has been thoroughly worked out in simplified form, so that this health-wrecking ailment can be completely banished without drugs by every individual sufferer.

Anyone (even a child) can do this for himself or herself in a few minutes' time in the privacy of the home; and do it better than an osteopath, masseur, or any other manipulator; because he will involuntarily resist another person's touch.

Constipation is a Temporary Paralysis of the Colon Muscles

Constipation is caused by gas pressure against the delicate muscular linings of the COLONS, which prevents the blood circulating through them. The inability to eliminate or pass this gas causes it to accumulate and press not only against the muscular linings of the colons, but also against the delicate organism and nerve centers throughout the abdominal region. This pressure of gas often causes pain which so often leads people to think they have appendicitis, ovarian, bladder and other ailments.

Berry's Anatomical METHOD makes it impossible for gas to accumulate or to be retained in the bowels and positively removes the cause of Constipation by renewing the life and vigor of the delicate colon muscles.

In no other way can constipation be corrected except by the Berry method, because it brings the colons from their deep-seated position in the abdomen to a place near the surface, where anyone can, by following the Berry method, immediately remove the gas and gradually restore the colon muscles to their full life and vigor.

Thousands have succeeded in curing themselves at home—no longer is it necessary for them to use artificial means. Mr. Berry discovered this method while teaching his pupils how to regain vitality and health. After a great deal of study he perfected a method to be sent by mail by which anyone can follow the instructions just as well as if they come to his offices, and now is giving it to the public at the lowest possible cost, so that all may avail themselves of it. The price for the complete method is only $5.00.

Of the twelve thousand men and women of all ages in all stations of life who have ordered this method, none have complained of not being able to follow the method. Every detail has been worked out; no one can go wrong.

Business and Professional Men and Women

Fourteen Hundred Orders Received

Two weeks ago a page announcement regarding Berry's Anatomical Method was published in the Sunday Times. The Method offered a permanent cure for constipation to everyone—men, women and children. Since then, no less than fourteen hundred orders have been received, coming from housewives, bookkeepers, stenographers, store and office clerks, managers, executives, nurses, realty dealers, musicians, lawyers and bankers, and persons in other sedentary professions.

This prompt response to the announcement is conclusive evidence that the public today realizes that drugs and artificial means give but temporary relief. They also seem to realize that only by doing something which will renew the life and vigor of the colon muscles, can they become natural and regular in the all-important duty of bowel evacuations. After all, however, everyone should be fully conscious that it takes muscular power to eliminate waste matter, and if the colon muscles are not fully nourished by the blood circulating through them, they cannot hope to be natural and regular any more than they could expect to have the full use and power of their arm muscles if the blood in their arm was congested for any length of time.

There is a small difference between the right and the wrong way to do a thing. The Berry Method is the right and, at the same time, the only way to renew the life and vigor of the colon muscles and prevent gas accumulation in the bowels.

For five dollars, the price of two osteopathic or massage treatments, or a few bottles of drugs, a permanent cure has been put into their hands. There is no need to hesitate—send for the method today.

TO THE SKEPTICAL

Those who, because of long, weary years of suffering from this annoying ailment have any doubt that they cannot cure themselves are extended an invitation to call on Mr. Berry at his offices, Suite 401 Merritt Building, Eighth and Broadway, Los Angeles, where he can show them proofs that will convince the most skeptical of the merits of his method.

The Remarkable Career of Milton H. Berry, Physical Educator
His Success in Cases of Paralysis Has Never Been Equaled

Milton H. Berry, Physical Educator, is the originator of applying correcting methods of physical education to victims of infantile paralysis, a method which is now used successfully in all hospitals for crippled children.

Twenty-two years ago at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, he astonished the medical men of that city by enabling Miss Mary E. Hawkins, a school teacher, to use her limbs after they had been paralyzed for twenty-five years. He moved to Des Moines, Iowa, and it was while there that he accomplished the cure of Miss Lulu Murphy, formerly an art instructor at Drake University. This case attracted the attention of prominent doctors from all over the middle west because Miss Murphy had been totally paralyzed in both her limbs for over four years. After being under Mr. Berry's instructions for four months, she walked out of the Methodist Hospital in a perfectly normal state of health. This cure attracted the attention of the famous Chicago surgeon, the late Dr. John B. Murphy, who prevailed upon Mr. Berry to move to that city.

This led to scores of persons suffering from paralysis to come to him for his teaching from all over the middle west. A year ago, Mr. Berry decided to locate in Los Angeles, where he secured a suite of offices in the Merritt Building. His success since coming to Los Angeles is testified to by many prominent men and women who have given him letters which are on file in his office and which he will be glad to show to anyone who is interested.

Mr. Berry does not claim to be a physician nor does he treat cases. He is a teacher of corrective methods of physical education and his success is due entirely to his original method of teaching. Pupils come to him every day, some to be taught how to use their paralyzed limbs, others to gain in weight and become healthy and strong. Children whose bodies are crooked are becoming straight through his skill.

Endorsements Received From Leading Physicians

Dr. Nicholas Senn, whose letter follows, was known to the medical world as one of the greatest surgeons of our time.

Milton H. Berry, May 5, 1905.
Venetian Bldg., Chicago.
Dear Sir:
The cure of Miss Murphy's case will go down in medical history as a wonderful achievement. I personally saw and examined this patient, and, like all other physicians who examined her, agreed that her recovery was out of the question.
I predict for you a notable and useful career and shall never lose an opportunity to acclaim your genius.
(Signed)

Nicholas Senn

Miss Murphy had been totally paralyzed in both lower limbs, sensation and motion entirely lost. She had been given the best medical attention for two years, then followed two years of osteopathic treatments. After being under the care of Mr. Berry for FOUR MONTHS she walked out of the Methodist Hospital, using her limbs in a perfectly normal way. The full details of Miss Murphy's case will be sent to anyone interested.

"Last August I had a stroke of paralysis which left my right leg and arm badly affected. It was difficult to use either. I could scarcely walk and then only with the aid of a cane. I came to Los Angeles to receive the advice and services of Milton H. Berry, the Physical Educator, who was recommended to me as an expert in cases like mine. I have been under his instruction for the past month and a remarkable change has taken place in my condition. STOP!

Stop using your arm for a period of four or five weeks.

What would be the result? A temporary paralysis, wouldn't there be?

Well, then, would you inject drugs to regain the use of your arm muscles?

I think not! You would say, "That's foolish!"

Exactly; but that is just what you are doing with the muscles of your colon when you take drugs. The drugs may give a temporary relief, but will always leave your involuntary muscles in a more weakened state than ever.

The Berry Anatomical Method, on the contrary, relieves you and strengthens you. Gives you a natural condition by bringing the colon muscles back to full life and power.

The Berry Anatomical Method keeps the BOWELS FREE from accumulation of gas and at once puts you on the right road to health. No more headaches, no straining of the rectal muscles, no worry about appendicitis, peritonitis, bowel complaints nor constipation.

With this method you may defy more than 95 per cent of human ailments.

Twelve thousand men, women and children have been cured of constipation by Milton H. Berry's Anatomical Method. Therefore, the method is far and away beyond the experimental stage. IT IS A WONDERFUL SUCCESS.

Playing with love is like playing with a bulldog—harmless until it becomes serious.

When things go wrong and you're "all at sea," don't rock the boat if you wouldn't be drowned.

If familiarity with the right kind of man breeds contempt it is you that is contemptible.

Now that nearly everybody except a few hardy souls has discovered that home-brewing is a failure, maybe there will be room in the refrigerators next summer for the milk and butter.

A man in a dry goods or millinery shop always feels and looks embarrassed, but a woman in a men's clothing store never is embarrassed.

A boy continues to be his mother's pet even after he's become his father's pest.

The old-fashioned man who was taught that women were his superiors and who reluctantly submitted to the new idea that women are his equals, now is fighting bitterly to prevent their again being considered his superiors.

AN EVENING IN APRIL

A little brown house in a little green yard of turf that is soggy and wet; and red-cheeked children that swing on a gate in the glow of the long sunset.

Blue smoke that curls from the kitchen fire; pink ribbons that run in the west; a robin that sings from the peak of the roof as he plans the place for his nest.

Across the cool silence there sounds a church bell; then the moo of a home-driven cow—a soft purple haze is darkening the east, for the sun has gone down by now.

The children go dancing into the dusk, with a puppy close up to their heels, to welcome the father home from his work with kisses and laughter and squeals.

The smell of burned pepper in potatoes that fry; the scrape, scrape of a knife on a skillet; a door opening wide; a man going into a home with more love than can fill it.

The murmur of voices; the children's light laughter; then a bit of an old love tune. In a green-blue sky floats a silver star that sails with a silver moon.

JAPANESE EXPANSION

Japan has decided to station troops at half a dozen or more towns and strategic points on the Siberian mainland west of Saghalin island. The United States has an interest in the expansion policies of Japan. It seems within reason, therefore, to look into this.

With a territory about the size of California, Japan must maintain a population approximately two-thirds that of the entire United States. It is increasing at the rate of 700,000 a year. Expansion is essential. Bishop Yoshiyasu Hira-Iwa of the Japan Methodist church recently asserted that the Japanese prefer to emigrate to the western hemisphere. The section of the western hemisphere known as the United States prefers they emigrate elsewhere. Where more logically and with less danger to the rest of the world than to Siberia?

Development of the vast areas there will provide labor and sustenance for millions for many years to come. The more they labor the less they will have time for war. If they must fight to justify their martial establishment the grudge with the Russian soviet government which they are founding with the present invasion will always offer a cause. With the Chinese hatred of the Japs also growing through the years as Shantung remains a point of irritation there is another source of war. Between such conditions and the tremendous task of developing the territory upon which they are now setting foot, it appears Japan may be sufficiently busy without encroaching upon America.

Any wails which may develop with the jeopardizing of Washington B. Vanderlip's reported Kamchatkan concession from the soviet government can hardly compete with the cheers of Americans who are glad to see Japan's attention engaged outside of America in a manner which gives promise of becoming permanent.

A substantial collation of chicken sandwiches, ice cream, cake and coffee was provided by the host for the delectation of his guests.

INVESTIGATES CASE OF ROSENBLUTT

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Attorney General Daugherty announced today after a conference with Senator Calder, of New York, that he has given orders that Captain Robert Rosenbluth, who has been charged with being implicated in the death of Major Alexander Cronkhite at Camp Lewis, Washington, shall not be taken to Washington pending further investigation in the case. This order will not conflict with any extradition action the state of Washington may take.

Attorney General Daugherty said he had talked with Rosenbluth, who told a "good story" and indicated that there is some doubt in his mind of Rosenbluth's guilt. He stated that he will make a personal investigation of the whole matter.

CORPORAL DEATH ROW SENTENCED TO DIE

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 25. — "Tenshun-Forward, March!" Halt! At rest!

No, it is not Vitus Marsden, the celebrated "military wildcat" of the "fust service battalion," talking to Lily the Goat, his noted link with Lady Luck. It is Carl Wanderer, former army lieutenant, who one day soon will be taken into the courtyard of the Cook county jail and hanged for the murder of his wife and a "ragged stranger" he hired to stage the fake hold-up in which his wife was killed.

Wanderer is corporal of the strangest company that ever "right faced." The ranks are filled with men whose necks already tingle to the feel of the hangman's noose.

Wanderer, confined in "murderer's row" at the county jail, grew restless for lack of exercise. He petitioned Jailer Meisterheim for permission to drill his fellow condemned slayers in military formation. The jailer agreed and provided the squad with broomsticks.

Now the sharp order of the drillmaster resounds daily in the corridors of the jail.

"Squad, right about, march!" yells Wanderer at his strange company. "Private Geary, hold that pivot. Snap into it, Cardinella. Can't you find your left foot, Costanzo. Lopez, keep your chin up."

And the men who are soon to be executed step lively at Wanderer's command. They seem to enjoy it.

Wanderer's squad consists of Gene Geary, the date of whose execution has not been set; Harry Ward, who will hang late this month.

Grover C. Reddick and Oscar McGavick, negroes, who were hanged on April 22 for the murder of a sailor from Great Lakes, were refused membership in the "army" when they sought to enlist.

Wanderer, who served in the army in France, does not know yet when he will be executed.

DENVER HAS FINE LIBRARY, FEW BOOKS

(By International News Service)

DENVER, April 25.—Although Denver has one of the most beautifully appointed and richly-carved library rooms west of the Mississippi, it is "bookless," and prospects for its empty shelves being soon filled with tomes of knowledge are remote.

Five years ago Denver's palatial postoffice building was completed. Thousands of pictures taken of the structure showed its elaborate interior, with its wonderful columns, corridors, court rooms and offices. They showed, also, the ornate library—its fine grained finish, the hand-carved decorations, the Latin inscriptions over the doors, and the names of literary celebrities such as Bacon, Dickens and Macaulay. But these photographs never showed a single book on the vast shelf spaces — there were none there.

Shortly after completion of the postoffice building the war broke out and when the United States entered the conflict none of the Colorado representatives in Congress was anxious to ask that body for an appropriation to purchase books for the elaborate library room in the building.

And now thte mooted waves of economy in governmental appropriations continues to be a handicap to securing sufficient yellow-bound volumes to fill the gaping shelf space, and Denver's most beautiful library room remains empty.

VILLA RECEIVES PROMISED CASH

(By International News Service)

MEXICO, CITY, April 25.—The Secretary of the Treasury has just paid Francisco Villa, the former bandit chief, 317,016 pesos as the final installment due according to the terms of the peace convention signed by Villa with the government. It was agreed at that time that Villa and his band would surrender and resume peaceful occupations the men would be paid for six months. The total cash said to have been given to the Villistas exceeds 2,000,000 pesos.

That Villa is loyal to the Obregon government and has no intention of going on the war path again, is the belief of tthe officials, who assert that he frequently sends postcards, some in a very humorous vein, to cabinet officers reiterating his pledges. A report that Villa recently was asked to lead a red army in a new revolutionary movement was confirmed, it is said, but he refused to do so. He is now recovering from a serious attack of pneumonia.

BASEBALL LOTTERY MANAGER ARRESTED

(By International News Service)

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 25.—With the arrest here of Thomas Martin, police and department of justice officials believe that they have broken up a nation-wide baseball lottery, which was conducted through the United States mail. Seventeen cities have been found to contain men believed to be his agents and it was through the arrest of an agent named Osborn in Cincinnati that the local authorities learned that Buffalo was the headquarters for the alleged lottery.

Following are part of the cities in which Martin had agents working: Brooklyn, New York, Hartford, Conn.; Providence, Boston, Syracuse, Minneapolis, Harrisburg, Pa.; Williamsport, Pa.; Pittsburgh, Altoona, Pa.; Detroit, Cincinnati, Brockton, Mass.; Indianapolis, Albany and Schenectady. Officials say there are a number of other cities, the names of which they do not know.

THE VANISHING POINT

Mary Garden on her return from Monte Carlo said at a dinner in New York:

"You will hardly believe it, but in France skirts are getting shorter. On the Promenade des Anglais in Nice and on the Casino terrace in Monte Carlo it almost seemed as if the shortened an inch or so every day."

"Where will this thing end?" a movie king asked in awed tones.

"If skirts," Miss Garden answered, "get much shorter, they will end in being nothing but—a hem! a hem!"

ONLY CHEAP THING LEFT

The H. C. of Living has been discussed and the family left as though it behooved them to watch the corners. The small daughter thought every night none too often to take in a movie, but mother insisted that constant going added greatly to expense. At supper Margaret remarked: "Nothing doing in the movie line tonight, dad; let's take a walk, that's the only thing that's cheap."

CANADA OASIS TO BE MECCA OF TOURISTS

By J. EDWARD NORCROSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 25. — Having a monopoly of fortified moisture from the Pacific to the St. Lawrence, and from Mexico to the Yukon, the government of British Columbia, which under the new Moderation Act, will open up as sole purveyor of everything from beer to champagne in the province, May 1 next, proposes that tourists coming to this alcoholic oasis from surrounding desert areas to refresh themselves shall pay for the privilege and then pay some more.

To begin with, the government has no intention of allowing any reproduction, by tourists or anybody else of the old brass footrail conditions. The resident must pay five dollars a year for a permit to buy liquor at the government store and go to jail for six months if he buys it anywhere else. This latter condition also applies to the tourist, but his permit, which costs five also, is good for a fortnight only.

But Everybody Must Behave

Having bought his package, the purchaser must take it away, outside and not inside his person. If a resident, he goes home with the precious cargo. If a tourist, he may take it to his hotel room. The only persons who are allowed to have liquor in hotel rooms are bona fide registered guests. The wanderer who parks his car out in the suburbs and camps in it must do without liquid sustenance stronger than coffee. Liquor cannot be consumed in a public place, and according to the act, any place to which an autotmobile may go, except a private garage, is a public place.

But That Is Not All

Festive tourists have hitherto found that even under the prohibition law the beer supplied by the near-beer bars was of a distinctly cheering quality. Residents had already found it out and near-beer bars have flourished accordingly. All that is about to disappear. Near-beer has been abolished by statute. Real beer alone will be recognized in British Columbia hereafter and it will be sold by the government only under the same conditions as other infoxicants. Sixty bars in this city, beautiful places that nobly endeavored to fill the vacancy created when the prohibition act, repealed by the will of the electors of the province as expressed in a plebiscite taken last October, wiped out the regular hotel bars three years ago. American bartenders who found their haven in the near-beer bars after their occupation had been eliminated in the States are inquiring as to passenger rates to their home towns and finding that American exchange which worked so well coming this way, has a reverse action.

Numerous clubs, too, many of them returned soldiers' organizations, are hard hit by the new legislation which takes away their principal source of revenue. Without the near-beer bar, especially since the beer has been so much nearer, they will find some difficulty in carrying on.

ALLEGED MEMBERS OF GANG ARRESTED

(By International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25. — Police today arrested two of a gang of five men who late last night held up the ranch of Riccomi Brothers at Mountain View, near San Jose, and made away with $10,000 worth of choice liquors. One truck load of the champagne and gin taken from the ranch was recovered. The police are searching for three other men and another truck.

Fred Riccomi and a hired man at the ranch were overpowered, bound and gagged by the five men, who then proceeded to dig the liquor from its buried hiding place on the ranch property. All telephone wires were cut from the ranch and it was some time before an alarm could be given.

William R. Webber and Joseph A. Gross are the two men under arrest. They will be taken to San Jose.

DEAN OF EDITORS PASSES AWAY TODAY

(By International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—John P. Young, managing editor of the San Francisco Chronicle and dean of the managing editors of the coast, died at his home early today. He was stricken with paralysis 10 days ago and failed to rally.

Young had completed 44 years' service as managing editor of the Chronicle on April 1. He was well known as an author and nationally recognized as an authority in history and economics.

He was born in Philadelphia in 1849 and came to California 20 years later. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Miriam G. Young.

SIX I. W. W. ARE UNACCOUNTED FOR

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 25.—Federal officials were "counting noses" today on the various I. W. W. who are under sentence to Fort Leavenworth prison for espionage, to learn if any others than William ("Big Bill") Haywood can be listed among the missing. One report said today that all but six had been accounted for.

No official confirmation of the report that Haywood is in Russia has been received but the report is generally accepted as true. Officials are endeavoring to learn how Haywood evaded the passport regulations in leaving the United States.

Wm. Bross Lloyd, missionaire Socialist, who is Haywood's chief bondsman, declared he believes Haywood will "take the next boat back" when he hears that the supreme court has refused a rehearing on his case.

Lloyd said that Haywood had not expected the ruling of the supreme court to come so soon, otherwise he would not have left the country.

Word from the American civil liberties union of New York says that Haywood is on his way to Moscow to attend the conference of the federation of trade unions in July, but will return later and serve his sentence. In I. W. W. circles here is was predicted that Haywood was "gone for good" and the belief expressed that he had fled the country because he feared he would die before the expiration of his sentence. It is also declared that Haywood has been stripped of his authority in the I. W. W. and was now a negligible factor in that organization.

EFFORT TO END GREAT COAL STRIKE

By EARLE C. REEVES
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

LONDON, April 25.—Resuming his efforts to end the great coal strike, Premier Lloyd George today invited both the miners and mine owners to send delegates to No. 10 Downing street at 3 o'clock this afternoon for a discussion of a basis of conciliation. The mine owners promptly accepted the invitation.

After declaring their willingness to meet the premier at this afternoon's conference the miners issued a statement to the effect that the delegates from the various districts had unanimously voted for a continuance of the strike, insisting upon a national pool of profits and a national wage scale as the two primary conditions for a settlement.

The miners delegates unanimously voted their confidence in Frank Hodges, who was the storm center at last week's triple alliance meetings.

Mrs. W. F. Nash of 711 North Central avenue entertained the members of the Wednesday Afternoon Club at her home yesterday. LUNCHEON SERVED TO GRAND ARMY

The regular all-day meeting of the N. P. Banks Post, G. A. R., and the Woman's Relief Corps was held at G. A. R. headquarters.

A noon luncheon was served by the ladies to the 100 members present. Rev. R. W. Mottern gave a short talk, and the rest of the afternoon was given over to a discussion of plans for the observance of Memorial Day and arrangements for the annual encampment in August.

Chairmen of committees were appointed to arrange for services at Grand View and Forest Lawn cemeteries, and also for the assignment of comrades and Relief Corps members to the duty of visiting schools on the day on which they will observe Memorial Day.

An invitation to the Post and Corps and affiliated organizations to attend the morning service at the Baptist church on Memorial Sunday was accepted. On the afternoon of that day a Memorial Day service will be held in the Tabernacle.

Decorations at the cemeteries and the Tabernacle will be in charge of the Relief Corps.

It is planned to change the place of meeting of the Southern California Veterans' Association this year from Huntington Beach, where it has been held for a number of years, to Santa Monica. The Methodist Assembly which will transfer from its present Huntington Beach grounds to a new camp at Santa Monica this year, has offered accommodations to the Veterans' Association for their encampment to be held from August 2 to August 12.

The annual encampment for the department of California and Nevada will be held at Stockton from May 8 to May 15.

GERMANY MUST BE MADE PAY FOR WAR

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Germany must be made to pay for the war and the only way in which it can be determined how much she can pay is to use force in securing reparations, General Tasker H. Bliss, who was a member of the American peace commission, said today, following a call upon President Harding. General Bliss said that he had merely called to pay his respects to the president and had not discussed raparations or other international matters.

AMERICANS SECOND IN TOKIO CENSUS

(By International News Service)

TOKIO, April 25.—Americans rank second in the list of foreigners residing in the capital city of Japan, it was announced recently by the Metropolitan police department of Tokio. Of the 5245 foreigners living in Tokio 653 of them are Americans, according to these 1921 figures.

A notable increase in the Germans living in Tokio is one of the outstanding features of the announcement. As a reason for this is given the fact that German business men are attempting to regain ground lost here during the great war. The 50 Germans who lived in Tokio during the war have increased to 127 already. China ranks first in the list and Great Britain's residents are third. The list follows: Chinese, 3466; Americans, 653; British, 367; Russians, 227; Germans, 127; French, 92; Filipinos, 37; Hollanders, 28; Swiss, 26; Hindoos, 21; Italians, 21; Swedes, 20; Czechs, 16; Siamese, 15; Portuguese, 13; Belgians, 13; Argentinians, 12; Spaniards, 12; Chilians, 11; Austrians, 8; Danes, 6; Norwegians, 6; Canadians, 5; Australians, 4; Greeks, 4; Bulgarians, 3; Malayans, 3; Finns, 2; Burmese, 2; Rumanians, 2; Brazilians, 2; Mexicans, 2; Rumanians, 2; Luxembourgeois, 2; Persians, 1.

GLENDALE FREE FROM STRIKES

Glendale is singularly free from labor troubles. While some of the great cities of the East, notably New York and Chicago, have almost constant quarrels between workmen and contractors, with many huge graft scandals, our little city rushes serenely along in its mighty building program, with contented workmen and satisfied employers of labor. There has never been a strike here of any moment and the relations between capital and labor are most amicable.

MISS DOROTHY HUNT HOSTESS AT DINNER

Miss Dorothy Hunt, 420 West Elk street, was hostess at a 6 o'clock dinner on Saturday evening.

Lovely roses adorned the prettily appointed dinner table, where places were marked for Mrs. Neth, in charge of the girls' meetings at the Tabernacle, Miss Frances Neth, Mr. Elliott, Albert Sullivan and the hostess.

FROM SIXTH STREET TO GLENWOOD ROAD

At the next meeting of the Glendale board of trustees, Mrs. C. Ellsperman will present a petition of residents of the Grand View district to change the name of West Sixth street to Glenwood road.

The name of "West Sixth street," they argue is illogical, since Glendale has no Sixth street. "Glenwood road" is euphonious and is favored by all the residents of the district.

ANOTHER LUMBER YARD

There are five lumber yards in Glendale now and another is in contemplation. It will have to be located on San Fernando road if it comes, which would make three on that busy thoroughfare. The way Glendale is building it is probable Glendale could easily support another yard, as those now in operation seem crowded with business constantly and all carry very large stocks of building material.

NEWCOMER TO CITY

Jay Bruggeman, of Seattle, Wash., is in Glendale looking over business conditions in and around the district, with the expectation of buying some 15 to 25 lots for sites on which to build. Mr. Bruggemann is a builder and contractor and it is his plan to erect three to five room bungalows with all modern improvements for rentals. Should he decide to locate in Glendale and build the houses as he plans, the Warren Schimmelfeng agency will have the renting of the places. Mr. Bruggemann has a very interesting family and besides the financial benefit he will be to the community, he and his family will be a social asset as well.

TEN-ROOM BUNGALOW

The erection of a 10-room duplex bungalow for Miss Bessie Field was begun today at 540 North Louise street, where she has two lots. W. G. Boyd drew the plans for this building.

GRAND VIEW WILL HOLD BIG RALLY

It is expected that guests to the number of 50 or 60, all residents of the Grand View district, will be present tonight at a special rally and get-acquainted meeting, at which Mr. and Mrs. C. Ellspermon will be hosts at their home on West Sixth street.

T. W. Watson, city manager, A. H. Lapham, city trustee, and Frank Marek, city horticulturalist, will give short talks, the chief topic of interest being the $30,000 bond election in this district tomorrow. The polling place is to be at the Ellspermon garage.

The social hour will be devoted to cultivating neighborly acquaintance and refreshments will be served by the hostess.

EDWIN MARKHAM CAME HOME TODAY

(By International News Service)

SAN JOSE, Cal., April 25.—Edwin Markham came home today. And all San Jose as well as many leading figures of the western literary world gathered at the little home at 432 South Eighth street, where years ago the poet penned "The Man With the Hoe," and won for himself international fame, to pay him homage.

This afternoon at the old Markham place, which is to be dedicated as one of the points of historical interest in the city, a formal reception will be tendered the poet. Thousands are expected to greet him.

A score of notables, including Dr. David Starr Jordan, Herbert Hashford and others, were scheduled to take part in this dedicatory program.

GLENDALE SURELY NEEDS A HOTEL

Every day it becomes more and more evident that Glendale's most insistent need is a hotel, a big hotel, and two of them, if possible. Los Angeles has dozens of them, has recently built a $5,000,000 one and another is in contemplation costing half as much again as the Ambassadar. We need manufactories, plenty of them, but more than all, in the opinion of many, we need a big tourist hotel, one to accommodate a hundred or more guests. It would catch much of the overflow from the big cities that now goes to suburban towns that are more forehanded in the way of hotels than Glendale. As well known as is this wonder city all over the country, thousands of tourists would eagerly visit it during a year's time if they could find hotel accommodations here.

SILK, NOT COTTON, IS WORN IN SOUTH

(By International News Service)

GREENVILLE, S. C., April 25.—Women in the south who wear silk stockings and—um—other things will be the object of a movement launched here to enhance the value of cotton products.

Strangely enough the south, home of cotton, is sadly addicted to the use of silk. Therefore a movement has been started urging Southern women to wear dresses made of cotton goods alone. F. Gordon Cobb, mill superintendent, started the movement, which has been taken up by the Greenville chamber of commerce. Other cities will be asked to help.

Y. L. I. WILL MEET WEDNESDAY EVENING

The Y. L. I. will hold their regular meeting on Wednesday evening at their hall in the Central building. After a short business session, the young ladies will devote the remainder of the evening to an open meeting to which all their friends are invited.

CANTATA, "DAVID, THE SHEPHERD BOY"

"David, the Shepherd Boy," a beautiful cantata given some time ago by the choral society of the Seventh Day Adventist church, was repeated by request on Saturday evening before a large and appreciative audience.

BUILDING FOR CHEVROLET

The Chevrolet agency is getting ready to begin their new building on East Broadway, opposite the Sanitarium. They plan a building 50x175 with an up-to-date show room for Chevrolets, a repair shop in the rear and a well equipped garage for storing cars.

STUDIO NEWS AND GOSSIP

HOW STUDIO FOLKS AMUSE THEMSELVES

By GLORIA SWANSON

Naturally enough, we people of the film world have to find means of passing the time between scenes, in order to keep in the spirit of the work and yet escape lassitude.

Not for a moment, however, would I wish to convey the impression that there is much idling. But sometimes there is enforced waiting while a set is being altered, lights arranged or some other technical delay takes place.

I have often watched the different ones and marked their ways of passing such temporary periods of inaction.

When I was with Mr. Cecil B. de Mille's company, we were usually intensely busy all the time when working, and in the time off it was frequently possible to go away for a half day or a day—which meant usually to rest up a bit. Also Mr. de Mille is a great believer in having people keep in character as much as possible between scenes. I remember Raymond Hatton telling how the producer didn't want him to eat in a cafeteria while playing Montezuma or some equally important role. The contention was that a man could not preserve his character if he came from a scene of gorgeous character attired in some equally gorgeous robe of office and ate corn beef and cabbage, so to speak, in a little food-stall. The remarks of others, the descent from the heights to the commonplaces, would tend to destroy in his own mind the realism of his conception and therefore the realism in his portrayal.

Like One Big Family

I think there is a good deal in that, and I have generally followed the same idea of my own free will. But it is quite natural that a little good-natured chaffing should take place between the players—for we're a good deal like one big family, anyway.

Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle is the greatest one for having a lot of fun in his spare moments. He is always "clowning," as he calls it, and I remember seeing him walk by the girl who was "holding the script" on his set one day, touching a match to the corner of a sheet of paper as he passed. When it suddenly flared up, she dropped it and bounded out of the chair, while Mr. Arbuckle calmly put his foot on the blaze and extinguished it ere any harm had been done. Afterward he picked up the manuscript and handed it to her with a courtly bow and an apology. Even yet, I dare say, she doesn't realize that he was the jokester. He keeps everyone laughing even while he is at work and often his extemporaneous "gags" are adapted into the play itself, for he is a natural-born humorist.

"Chats" Are Popular

Others chat and tell stories or reminisiences of their experiences—this being particularly true of the older members who have had long years on stage and screen—such as Theodore Roberts, who is a mine of reminiscence and can tell his stories with the greatest skill.

Wallace Reid will amuse himself with his saxaphone or violin, which he plays with great skill; the girls discuss gown or the topics of the day.

And always, we are waiting the director's call—"on the set, please"—when at once the world drops away, the real world, and we are in the imaginary universe that has been created. We resume our artificial personalities and live the lives that we have made our own for the time being.

Such is the life of the player for the screen.

Sympathy for Bebe

Bebe Daniels, Realart star, as the whole country knows by this time, is serving a sentence of 10 days in the Orange county jail for speeding. The day after she surrendered herself to the jailer she received the following sympathetic note from a prisoner in the San Quentin prison:

"Sympathy is all that most people care to give. But like the famous Biblical giver mine is the veritable widow's mite. For I am a widow—prodigally I've divorced seductive liberty from my bosom.

"You must have been making some speed. But I've got you bested. I rode so fast in a Ford in three days that it'll take me 10 years to get back again. Just think of it! For every one of your days I've got a year!

"Hoping they allow your meals to be sent to you, I am,

"Fraternally(?) yours,
"PRISONER NO. 30258."

Frank Mayo's picture, originally called "The Truant," will reach the screen under the title of "The Valley of the Rogues." "The Evil Half," a story of the frozen north, in which Eva Novak is starred, will be known as "Wolves of the North."

EVANGELIST BROWN'S AUDIENCE IS IMMENSE

"The songs of David strike a responsive chord in every breast because the key to David's life is the key to every successful life," Evangelist Brown told the large and attentive audience at the tabernacle on Saturday evening.

Taking as his subject "David's Rathers," from the tenth verse of the eighty-fourth psalm: "I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God than to dwell in the tabernacle of sinners," the preacher proceeded to develop the thought of his theme, namely, that joy is at the heart of things, and joy is to be found only in the peace of God. David had found his joy; he "had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of the Lord," "and a fellow that can say that, can sing songs that never die." This peace the world cannot give; amusement never satisfied anyone; joy is at the heart of things; and only the heart that is right with God, the heart that would truly "rather be a doorkeeper in His house," can know joy. The secret of David's life was that "he had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of the Lord than to dwell in the tabernacle of sinners."

"When Samuel was sent to anoint him whom the Lord chose as the new king," said Rev. Brown, "he rejected one by one of the seven brothers of David; he asked of their father whether these were all his sons, and he was told there was yet another, a young one who kept the sheep. Samuel ordered that he be sent for and when David had come in, he anointed him. The last called was the chosen one of God."

Evangelist Brown cited another instance in which men who were rejected and despised of men had been chosen by God.

"After David had been anointed he went back to the sheep fold. God never chooses a loafer. He always selects for His work some one who is working. Your work in a larger field depends upon what use you make of present opportunities. If you can't be trusted to do the little work, God will never call you to the larger field. We send people to win the heathen to Christ who have never done anything to lead a soul at home to Him.

"When David came to the throne he did not forget to Whom he owed his place. The acid test of every man is the test of prosperity or popularity. The less there is in a man, the more chesty he becomes over some little popularity or success. The most tragic music in the world is the voice of the egotist occupying the center of the stage, boasting of his little successes. The greater the man, the more modest, more humble, he is.

"To serve God because you fear to be doomed to hell is an unworthy motive; to serve Him because you desire to go to heaven is not a very high motive. The love of God is more potent in developing Christian characters. David served Him in love—he "had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of the Lord."

"Everyone does what he 'had rather,' perhaps not in unimportant things, but in the tremendous issues that have to do with the making of character and the decision of destiny, we all do what we 'had rather.' Christians who make their church play second fiddle, attending services only when lodge night, or a party or some other engagement does not conflict, do so because they 'had rather.' When a fellow is right, he'll be at church every time, and because he 'had rather.' We live on the level on which we 'had rather.'

"Multitudes of church people are as dependent on worldly things for their amusement as the worldiest worldling. Amusement never satisfied anyone. Joy is at the heart of things; and joy is only to be found in that peace which nothing in this world can give—the peace of Christ and the Holy Ghost.

"As you may tell what a man is by the company he keeps, so you may tell the size of a fellow by what it takes to amuse him."

Prayer was offered at the beginning of the service by Rev. Louis Tinning, and Rev. Ironmonger sang "On a Hill Far Away," in an impressive manner.

Evangelist Brown announced that copies of the Daily Press with an account of the services of Friday evening and Saturday, would be given out at the door. He expressed his appreciation for the interest The Press had shown in the work here, and exhorted his hearers to reciprocate by subscription to their home paper or by paying it up if they were delinquent subscribers. A city should be proud of its home papers, he said, especially when they showed such a fine civic spirit by boosting a community interest.

OTHER MEETINGS

The morning meeting for which all the churches dismissed their regular services, was very largely attended and the crowd at the afternoon service was almost as large. In the morning John Brown spoke most effectively on "Influence," drawing many wonderful and startling pictures. In the afternoon the topic, "Cain's Wife" was not touched upon until almost the close of a truly great sermon, but the approach to this curiosity-inspiring subject was most skillful and effective. "Jimmie" Garth, very dear friend and former associate of John Brown in his campaigns who now lives in Long Beach, was present all day and enlivened all the services with an exchange of repartee, which Brown hugely enjoyed. Both the services above-mentioned will be treated at length in tomorrow's Daily Press.

JACK DEMPSEY FIT AS A FIDDLE

(By International News Service)
SUMMIT, N. J., April 25.—Jack Dempsey is going to be fit as a fiddle when he meets Georges Carpentier July 2 at Jersey City. The world's champion is going about his preparations to start his real training in the right way. He is taking the best care of himself and living the life of a country gentleman at Fred Welch's health farm. He looks fine and says he never felt better.

"I don't intend to start training for several weeks," Jack said today. "I'm just going to enjoy the open air, play golf and take hikes on the road for about a fortnight or more.

"About the middle of May I will start training with light work at first. I'll start by boxing, punching the bag, pulling the weights, skipping the rope and jogging on the road. By that time 'Doc' (Manager Kearns) will have a stable full of sparring partners lined up, and in due time we will begin to make things hum."

Asked who he expects to have for sparring partners, Dempsey said that Jack Kearns is lining up a squad of good ones.

GERMAN CASTLE ON RIVIERE UNTENANTED

(By International News Service)
PARIS, April 25.—At Beaulieu sur Mer on the Riviera stands a beautiful mansion in the midst of a large and shady park. It is the property of Prince and Princess Hohenlohe-Schillingsfurst. Sequestrated at the beginning of the war and used as a hospital for American soldiers during the war the property was recently put up for auction by the French sequestration officials. It was estimated to be worth 80,000 francs and considered cheap at that price. Nevertheless, no one came forward to buy. The property is now uninhabited and is considered burdensome to the sequestration officials.

SEES THROUGH IT ALL

(By International News Service)
BOSTON, April 25.—"Any girl appearing at the confirmation service in this church in what I consider immodest attire, will be sent home."

With this ultimatum Rev. Thomas O'Neil, of St. Monica's church, South Boston, wound up a vigorous sermon against "daring" modern fashions at a mass, largely attended by young women.

"The time has come to call a halt," he said. "The styles are not designed either for modesty or comfort, but to attract attention. Parents are to be blamed for the short skirts and sketchy, transparent waists that are so popular."

WEATHER BULLETIN

PASSENGER LINER TOWED INTO PORT

(By International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—The marine department of the chamber of commerce today received word that the new shipping board passenger liner Wenatchee, on her maiden voyage from Seattle to the Orient, was taken in tow 115 miles off Yokohama, Japan, by the shipping board freighter Edmore, and will reach Yokohama tomorrow. The Wenatchee experienced engine trouble several days ago and is now four days overdue at Yokohama. Major-General Leonard Wood and members of his party are aboard, enroute to the Philippines to make a report on conditions there for President Harding. The vessel is operated by the Pacific Steamship company.

HERE IN GLENDALE

R. E. Taylor has bought an attractive home at 1239 South Glendale avenue. Mr. Taylor is a mechanical engineer who has recently come from New York to make his home here. The sale was made by the Glendale Homes Company.

Alfred G. Potts, formerly of San Francisco and now sales manager for a Los Angeles corporation, is about to break ground for a handsome two-story home on a beautiful wooded lot which he has purchased in Verdugo Woodlands.

This home on a lot 75 by 185, at the corner of Bonita drive and Don Carlos avenue, will be one of the show places of this beautiful subdivision. The sale was made by O. J. Du Mars of the Glendale Homes Company.

One of the important sales last week was the purchase by Mr. and Mrs. John A. Lawson, of a lot on North Brand, adjoining the property of M and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, the consideration being $6000. There were competitive buyers, but the Lawsons got in first and were offered almost immediately $7500 for their purchase.

An auto driven by Robert Berendsohn, 315 East Maple, was hit by a Pacific Electric car while going west on Harvard, yesterday, and one of the back wheels broken.

Fred Schierholz, corner Sinclair and Wilson, had 14 hens and a rooster stolen from his yard Saturday night.

Tomorrow (Tuesday), the baseball team of Glendale high plays South Pasadena on the field of the G. U. H. S.

OBITUARY

MRS. CORA S. TAYLOR

Mrs. Cora S. Taylor, who had been a member of the teaching staff of Columbus avenue school for the past 12 years, during the greater part of which time she had been principal of the school, passed out of this life yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, from her home, 356 West Lexington drive.

The Christian Science burial service will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the Little Church of the Flowers, and interment in Forest Lawn cemetery will follow. Pulliam & Kiefer has charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. Taylor was a woman of culture and fine character. Possibly no teacher in Glendale is better known or more beloved than she, or more highly respected, among her colleagues. She was progressive in her profession, ever keeping abreast of the best of the newest in educational development and exercising her gift of leadership for the good of the children who came under her guidance. Her memory will long be cherished among her pupils and her friends, and her influence will long be potent in their lives.

Mrs. Taylor is survived by her husband, A. G. Taylor, who is in Sinaloa, Mexico; her two sons, K. S. Taylor of Oregon, and R. P. Taylor of the merchant marine, now somewhere in the Atlantic ocean; two sisters, Mrs. M. C. MacLennon of Glendale and Mrs. Helen F. Dearborn of Loomis, Placer county, California.

GUARD UNIFORMS TO BE GIVEN OUT

"Glendale's Own" company, California National Guard, is beginning to use its quarters above the branch of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings bank, on Brand boulevard, although it has not taken formal possession of them yet. From there will be distributed Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock the uniforms and other equipment received from the government. Members are asked to call for their allotments at that time and they will receive credit for same as though they had attended a drill. We may soon expect to see these defenders in their new regalia.
